D. M. RADCLIFFE, who was here last week purchasing cattle for W. Beach, told the Calgary Herald that there were plenty of cattle in the Edmonton district but that little pains had been taken in either breeding or feeding. It is with cattle as with wheat, we now have a cash market, but we must produce the best if we are to get the top prices, and there is where the profit is.

MONDAY's train did not arrive until Tuesday morning, having left Calgary at 10 o'clock on Monday night. The delay was caused partly by snow on the main line and partly by a strike or partial strike amongst the main line employees. The C. P. R. train was brought from Medicine Hat to Calgary by the roadmaster. The C. & E. train had a coach, and the smoking car all filled with passengers.

A LARGE amount of coal has been taken out this winter from the banks of the White Mud creek, about six miles south of town. The coal differs in formation and quality from that at Edmonton and is supposed to be a part of the very superior seam found at the Big Island, about fifteen miles up the river. The coal mined as yet is only from the outside and therefore has lost some of its quality by exposure to the air. But it is thought that by going a little further in, excellent coal can be secured.

For the information of settlers looking for land, it may be mentioned that there is an excellent tract of land in township 56, ranges 23 and 24, chiefly north of the Sturgeon river, opposite the mill now being erected. The country is said to be high, open plain, with abundance of timber all around. Another choice locality is said to be in townships 51 and 52, range 2, west of the 5th meridian, on or near the Upper White Mud creek and near the one mile of Moore & Macdowell and Lamontagne Bros. Both the localities mentioned are of very early date.

METHODIST mission school buildings are about to be erected on Alexandre's reserve at Riviere Qui Barre and on Iron head's reserve, at White Whale lake. Occasional mission services have been given these two bands of Stonies by Rev. John Nelson, missionary to the Stonies at Wolf creek, and permanent schools and missions are about to be established.

A. R. CODE, Dominion government immigration agent, who has been working in Dakota for some time past, arrived on Monday's train, accompanied by J. E. Campbell, W. Slater and J. Melvor, of Edinburgh, P.O., and John Grayson, of Galt P.O., Walsh Co., North Dakota. These gentlemen are farmers formerly from Canada who are looking for a new location. They were driven to the Sturgeon settlement on Tuesday, examined the grain at D. McKinlay's and D. Craig's places and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the appearance and products of the country. They particularly remarked the good condition in which the cattle were and the little care that was required in sheltering them. If cattle were handled so in Dakota they declared they would not live until New Years. These men came from the borders of the Red River valley and are fairly well-to-do, one of them having 500 acres of wheat in last season. They intend to return in June.

THE following circular has been forwarded to the several members of the Northwest assembly: "Regina, March 11th, Sir, I am directed to inform you that a telegram has been received from Mr. Van Horne to the effect that in the event of the applications for passes which have been lately forwarded to him proving satisfactory, he considers in view of the arrangement made, it is hardly worth while issuing passes to the end of the present month." It may be worth mentioning that while the C. P. R. thus backs out of an agreement which involved no actual expense to them, in the interests of immigration to the Northwest, the Great Northern railway has overrun Ontario and the other Eastern Canadian provinces with immigration agents in the shape of returning settlers on free passes, commissions, salaries, anything to get them to work in the interests of immigration to Dakota and Montana. And yet people wonder at the Canadian exodus, or deny its existence. The Great Northern and the C. P. R. are to a great extent the same company; but the Great Northern end of the concern is managed by a Canadian who appreciates the value of Canadian settlers, while the C. P. R. end is managed by an American who apparently does not.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, MARCH. 19, 1892

The great distinguishing feature of the Edmonton district as compared with other sections of the Northwest is the abundance of timber. Nearly half of the whole surface of the Edmonton district proper is covered with large or small woods. In the nature of things this must be caused by, or be the cause of, conditions differing very materially from those prevailing throughout the Great Plains, where for hundreds of miles there is not enough wood to make a pen handle, or even from the regions where the growth of wood is comparatively scanty. There being a difference the settler naturally enquires: "Is that difference in favor of the plain or of the partly wooded region as a field for profitable agriculture?" The following extract from the evidence regarding the necessity of tree culture on the plains, given by John Craig, horticulturist to the experimental farms, before the agricultural committee of the House of Commons, should be a sufficient answer:

To summarize: Forest growth tends to distribute the rainfall evenly; to equalize the temperature, reduce the force of the winds, and to prevent undue evaporation. In other words it prevents destructive rain storms and equally destructive drouths as well as summer frosts and cyclones and winter blizzards. These are only a few of the important advantages which this partly wooded region has to offer over any part of the Great Plains.

The Toronto Globe's London correspondent cables: Northwest farmers will be interested in knowing that samples of Ladoga wheat submitted to Mark Lane experts are highly praised and would rank well on the markets.

Burchell & Howey, of Brandon, are shipping hog to the coast. Buyers are also taking beef cattle from Brandon to the coast.

Regina Standard: D. McCarthy intends to leave town this week for Edmonton, where he will stay for the summer.

CREAMERY MEETING.

A meeting to form a creamery association was held at the Poplar Lake school house on Wednesday evening, March 16th. M. McLeod chairman, L. McDairmid, secretary.

T. G. Hutchings spoke in favor of a creamery and believed that it would be a benefit to the community.

J. Kennedy wanted to know how many farmers would patronize the creamery.

Jas. Price thought the meeting too small to take decisive action and suggested an adjournment for the purpose of adjournment for the purpose of advertising a meeting to secure a larger attendance.

J. R. Brenton wanted to know how many cows there would be in a radius of ten miles that would send cream to the creamery.

J. Cameron said that he would like to see a creamery started in the district. The strength of the farmers was in co-operation. There was enough money and enough cows in the district to start a good creamery. In speaking to Radcliffe of the Big Hill Springs creamery that gentleman had told him that he got 25 cents for his butter the year round. He milked 100 cows, but expected to milk 600 within a year. Everyone knew that Manitoba creamery butter is far ahead of dairy butter. A great advantage of a creamery over a cheese factory was that the former did not interfere with the raising of calves and hogs. He was willing to assist financially and otherwise in the formation of either a co-operative association or a joint stock company.

J. Meneely wanted figures on the cost of getting a creamery started.

Mr. Cameron had not the actual figures as to cost at hand.

J. Kennedy asked the present value of butter if exported.

Mr. Cameron said that at present butter was worth 28 cents in British Columbia.

Mr. Kennedy asked how much that would leave the farmer.

Mr. Cameron—About 25 cents.

Mr. Kennedy asked about how much a creamery would cost.

Mr. Cameron—From $2,000 to $2,500. Continuing Mr. Cameron said he thought there were from 500 to 700 cows in the district which do not yield the farmers $2,500 in six months. If a creamery was started their produce would be worth $12,000.

J. R. Brenton moved, seconded by J. Meneely, that the meeting declare in favor of a creamery. Carried.

J. Kennedy moved seconded by B. Duke that T. G. Hutchings and J. Cameron be a committee to organize a company. Carried.

J. R. Brenton moved seconded by J. Kennedy that the company be a joint stock company. Carried.

J. Coleman moved seconded by J. Kennedy that the committee canvas the district for shareholders and allow not more than three shares to each person until all the district has been canvassed. Carried.

H. S. Young moved seconded by Mr. Hutchings, that Messrs. T. G. Hutchings, J. Kennedy, J. Meneely, J. Coleman and MARKETS.

The question of Markets is an important one to the actual or prospective settler and the producing region nearest to the best consuming market is the one that, other things being equal, will and should have the preference with settlers and investors. The chief objection urged by Manitoba immigration agents and agencies to the Territories is that increased distance west of Winnipeg means decreased prices for produce. If Montreal was the only market for produce this would be true to a certain extent, but it is not. Vancouver is a consuming market as well as Montreal and a port of shipment to other consuming markets also. Consequently the farmer's prices depend as much upon his comparative proximity to Vancouver as to Montreal. Winnipeg is the Manitoba produce shipping point nearest to Montreal as Edmonton is the Northwest shipping point nearest to Vancouver. Montreal is roughly 1,200 miles from Winnipeg and Edmonton is roughly 700 miles from Vancouver. Edmonton is therefore 500 miles nearer a consuming and shipping market than Winnipeg, so that if Montreal and Vancouver prices were the same the Edmonton farmer would have an advantage of 500 miles less haul to market over the former in the immediate vicinity of Winnipeg. A comparison of the market prices of farmers' produce in Montreal and Vancouver taken from the Montreal Trade Bulletin of March 11th and the British Columbia correspondence of the Winnipeg Commercial dated March 8th, is given below:

TOWN COUNCIL.

March 16.

Council met. Present: Messrs. McCauley, Strang, Fraser and Daly.

A report from the town solicitors was read in reference to the expropriation of certain lands occupied by Brown & Curry, E. Raymer and L. Kelly, respectively.

Strang and Daly moved that the board of works be instructed to inform Messrs. Brown & Curry that the portion of their building now on the street must be removed within three months from date.

Strang and Daly moved that the board of works be instructed to find out how much land it would be necessary to expropriate from L. Kelly and E. Raymer, and its value, and report to the council.

The finance committee reported that the clerk be paid a month's salary, $25; that a map of the town showing its limits and subdivisions had been ordered to cost $60.

Daly and Fraser moved the adoption of the report.

Acton Burrows addressed the council offering to give eight pages of the Western World to a description of the Edmonton district with six illustrations, and to print off 5,000 copies of the same for $275.

Strang and Fraser moved that the offer be referred to a committee of the whole council to be held in P. Heimick & Co.'s office on Thursday evening.

Daly submitted a sheet containing information to settlers for the approval of the council.

Strang and Fraser moved that the council having carefully considered the article on the district of Edmonton, published by P. Heimick & Co., hereby express approval thereof and believe that the information contained is correct and represents fairly the actual condition and prospects of the town and district.

CORRESPONDENCE. RED DEER SAMPLES.

To the Editor of the BULLETIN,

SIR,—Ever since September last, when I placed on the station platform here, twelve samples of grain grown at Red Deer, and all but one grown on my own farm; persons who reside at Edmonton have been wont to tell strangers that all these samples had been got by me at Edmonton and exhibited under pretense of being products of Red Deer. A few weeks ago, for example, one John Thurston, of Edmonton, told this story to some passenger or passengers in a C. & E. R. coach in the hearing of sergeant Diamond; and on Thursday evening last the proprietor of the Jasper House, Edmonton, made the same audacious statement to Mr. Samuel Shire, a gentleman from the east, who was here taking notes of the character and capabilities of the country. Now, Mr. Editor, the Edmonton country must be much worse than I ever thought it was, if its residents find it necessary to resort to such mean and cowardly tactics to boost its fortunes. To gratify their well-known desire to stab in the dark a section of country of which they seem to be jealous, they do not hesitate to assail by implication, the honesty of one who is not conscious of having done them or their country any harm. If these cowardly attacks are within the compass of the criminal libel statute I will give these traducers an opportunity to make good their statement. But in the meantime I ask in common justice any who have an ordinary regard for fair play to refrain from reproducing this mean slander and adopt some more decent method of advancing the interests of their locality than stealing the glory of Red Deer products, and injuring, so far as they are believed by strangers, the reputation of Yours truly,

LEO GARTZ.

Red Deer, March 12th, 1892.

In reference to the above it is only fair to the proprietor of the Jasper House to say that he distinctly denies having used the alleged expression to Mr. Shire, or anyone else at the time mentioned, or at any other time. As the accusation is not made as definitely against Mr. Thurston, he cannot deny it as definitely, but he says that if he did use the expression alleged he feels that he stands in more danger of a prosecution for slander from Edmonton than from Red Deer, and desires to apologize to the Edmonton district for having been misunderstood as having even insinuated that the samples of grain exposed at the Red Deer station worthily represented the agricultural capabilities of the Edmonton district.

The department of Interior is in trouble between the southern ranchmen and the holders of the C. & E. railway land. The C. & E. company has earned certain lands now covered by leases. The minister of interior offers to sell to the ranchmen, who have paid up their rents, one-tenth of their leaseholds at $2 per acre, the railway company to get their share of the remainder.

A few nights ago, while Mr. Fred Stinson was in Calgary, and the employees of the Northwest cattle ranch were about at a dance, the stable caught fire and five valuable stallions were burned to death.
